Golf in Morocco

Over one hundred years of history...

We are celebrating over one hundred years of friendship between golf and the Kingdom of Morocco. The first greens, which appeared in Tangier in 1914, were designed by the famous British architects Cotton & Pennink.

In 1930, the second golf course of the Kingdom was born: the Royal Golf of Mohammedia: still very British and in the purest Scottish tradition. Three years earlier in 1927, the Marrakech Pacha imagined the Royal Golf of Marrakech, which was finally established in 1933.

These three courses represented in the 30's the very essence of golfing in Morocco and it took time for new golf courses to be built. Morocco started at the beginning of the 70's a large scale golf program, inspired by the visionary late King, Hassan II. He launched the largest golf course in the Kingdom, the Dar Es Salam Golf Course: 45 holes designed by Robert Trent Jones Senior. While the prestigious Hassan II Golf Trophy was used as a powerful advertising medium internationally to put Morocco's golf to the forefront.

Golf in Morocco has been developing ever since, to become a full fledged tourism niche product with famous golf destinations.

It's about a lot more than simply golfing Golf in Morocco keeps developing

From the North to the South, experiencing golf in Morocco depends on whether golfers want to discover sunny beach resorts, to experience the game at the foot of the Atlas Mountains, the Mediterranean or the cities famous for their history and culture.

Four different golf experiences and four different ways to practice the sport. Morocco is offering golf amateurs and professionals multiple landscapes.

Golfing in Morocco is part of a much wider tourism offering. As a matter of fact, a wide range of hotels are offering various activities related to wellbeing, nature and adventure, water sports...

The Moroccan open sky offers very good connections to and between the major tourist destinations. Thus making Morocco an ideal golf break destination.

Located less than three hours flight away from the major European capitals, Morocco offers nice weather and pleasant temperatures throughout the year together with golf courses designed by the most famous international architects. Players will enjoy a high diversity of golf courses, in terms of landscape as well as playing techniques. Other advantages are the highly competitive green fees as well as the low caddies' fees.

Golf beside the Mediterranean Tangier, Tetouan, Nador, Saïdia

By 2020, Morocco's coastal areas should have all turned green: seven new golf courses will be built on the Mediterranean, together with large scale tourist resorts around Larache, Tetouan, Nador and Saïdia.

This will strengthen the golf offering on the Mediterranean, turning this region into a full-fledged golf destination.

The Royal Golf Tangier was the first golf course to open in Morocco in 1914. This 18-hole course, designed by the architects Cotton & Pennink, has been modernised, while keeping its very strong British flair. The Al Houara golf course will be added to this prestigious golf course.

Behind Tetouan and the Rif mountains, the Cabo Negro Golf Beach is a spontaneous and natural 18-hole, designed in the purest British tradition by Hawtree & Sons.

On the Cabo Negro peninsula, between the Rif Mountains and the Mediterranean, an exceptional 18-hole designed by Nicklaus Design, will be built, as part of the Tamuda Bay Resort.

These two golf courses will be outstanding thanks to their incredible sea view.

Two new golfers' musts were already opened several years ago: Saïdia on the Mediterranean and Lixus on the Atlantic in 2009 with 18-hole courses respectively called the Saïdia Med Golf and the Port Lixus Golf.

By 2020, at the foot of the archaeological site of Lixus, the Phoenician city, the Port Lixus sea resort will offer to its customers, upon completion, leisure and entertainment activities specific to the region as well as two new 18-hole golf courses in an idyllic setting.

The Saïdia resort will also offer a wide range of golfing activities with the building of two new 18-hole golf courses on either side of the resort, adding on to the existing Saïdia Med Golf, to turn the resort into a golf destination with three courses.

ROYAL GOLF TANGIER

This golf course, which was built in Morocco in 1914, kept the natural and authentic flair provided by its designers, Cotton & Pennink.

In the meantime, it was renovated and modernised, but nevertheless kept its original British spirit. The fascination starts already at the clubhouse from which you can watch the putting green, the practice, as well as the many pathways shadowed by pine, fir and eucalyptus trees. When you reach the green at number five, which is the highest point, you can enjoy the wonderful view of the roofs of 'Tangier, the White City'.

CABO NEGRO GOLF BEACH

Designed by Hawtree & Sons in 1976 and reviewed by Cabell B. Robinson, who gave it its current look, the Cabo Negro Golf Beach is located on the Rif mountainside facing the sea.

Thick bushes, dunes, water and hills adorn the landscape, which remains quite wild with agaves and mimosas. It is open all year round.

PORT LIXUS GOLF CLUB

The first of two 18-hole courses at Port Lixus sea resort, this golf course opened in 2010 and bears the signature of Enrique Saenger, architect at Golf Projects.

Located in pleasant surroundings, the golf course is offering several viewpoints over the Atlantic as well as on to a luxurious forest. The four big lakes built at the centre of the course, provide water as well as an interesting view on several holes. The 5* Golf Hotel should be built next to the clubhouse, right at the centre of the course and commanding a nice view of the four lakes.

SAÏDIA MED GOLF

This golf course is fully integrated in the luxurious vegetation of Saïdia's site.

The first of three golf courses planned in this resort, this 18-hole course was designed by the Spaniard Francisco Segalés, according to an American pattern but with touches of English style. The entire infrastructure was conceived to make sure the players fully enjoy their game at all technical levels. Eventually, another 36 holes should be added to make this site a golf reference in the entire Mediterranean.

Golf in the heart of Moroccan culture

Rabat, Fez, Casablanca, El Jadida

Golf here is an integral part of ancient cities. Golfers looking for cultural fulfilment will find in Rabat, Fez, Meknes, Casablanca or El Jadida sumptuous courses at the very heart of authentic cities offering their rich historic heritage going back to Imperial Morocco as well as modern design and Arab-Moorish architecture.

The Royal Golf Dar Es Salam, located ten minutes away from the city centre of Rabat, home of the prestigious Hassan II Trophy, is offering three single courses of increasing difficulty designed by Robert Trent Jones Senior. On the other side of the Bouregreg and North of the twin city of Sale, a new 18-hole will soon be built as part of the Plage des Nations Project.

Royal Golf Meknes is an original course, enabling golfers to play by day and night at the back of the Royal Palace in Meknes.

Cabell B. Robinson designed the 18-hole Royal Golf Fez is located at the foot of the Middle Atlas Mountains and at the heart of a wonderful olive grove. Closer to the city of Fez and along the Medina's fortifications, the Oued Fez Golf Resort is the newest golf course in the region. Set amid tourist real estate, its 18 holes closely follow the curves of Oued Fez river.

The Royal Golf Anfa and the Royal Golf Mohammedia golf courses give golfers an opportunity to play two courses, one in Casablanca and the other one in Mohammedia, on the Atlantic coast. Settat, an hour and a half drive away, provides a relaxing surrounding to learn how to play golf. South of Casablanca, at the 27-hole Royal Golf Benslimane, in an ideal environment, you can enjoy go-karting and trekking as well as horse riding.

Casablanca has had its first 18-hole since 2014. Casablanca Golf Club & Spa is located 15 Km south of Casablanca, on the road to Azemmour, at Dar Bouazza. It is part of a large-scale, top of the range, real estate project called 'Dar Bouazza Project', including a five-star hotel, a convention hall, as well as real estate facilities.

The Casa Green Golf is an 18-hole course located right at the centre of the Casa Green Town Project. This real estate project, located right in the middle of the Bouskoura forest and hills, is a stone's throw away from Sidi Maarouf's business district. Nestling nearby, the two other 18-hole golf courses, Tony Jacklin Casablanca and PalmGolf Casablanca, are completing a unique golfing experience.

At thirty kilometers north of Casablanca, the Bahia Golf Beach opened its doors in 2014 to welcome golf players in the beautiful bay of Bouznika.

El Jadida, formerly called Mazagan, offers beautiful beaches lining the Portuguese fortifications. The Royal Golf El Jadida, an 18-hole course designed by Cabell B. Robinson, is adorned by four large lakes providing the fairways with spectacular lines. Not far away from there, the Mazagan Golf Club, links designed by the gifted Gary Player is to this date the longest course in Morocco with its 6,885m.

ROYAL GOLF DAR ES SALAM

The Royal Golf Dar Es Salam in Rabat is already a legend for golf amateurs since it is the place where, the prestigious Hassan II Trophy took place.

Inaugurated in 1971 and designed by Robert Trent Jones Senior, it is a very stately course with splendid fairways ensconced in eucalyptus, palm trees, hyacinths, narcissus, mimosas, papyrus and Roman columns. A unique course where colours and smells mix. Open all year round, the Royal Golf Dar Es Salam is both a magical and a mythical mix together.

Golf at the foot of the mountains

Marrakech, Essaouira

With 12 golf courses spread all over Marrakech, it is indeniably the city of golf by essence. The Royal Golf Marrakech, established in 1933, was the first golf course in the city of Marrakech and the third oldest course in Morocco. Celebrities like Churchill or Eisenhower walked its greens...

Today, Marrakech has more golf courses to offer: 11 out of 12 golf courses of at least 18 holes, surround the city at the foot of the snow-covered Atlas Mountains, where you can enjoy outdoors activities after a sunny day.

The PalmGolf Marrakech Palmeraie, designed by Robert Trent Jones Senior, offers a unique panorama, which makes it one of the most beautiful courses according to international standards.

The Amelkis Golf Resort, designed by Cabell B. Robinson, remains more technical and resembles more an American course with fairly wide fairways.

Eight new 18-hole golf courses (Samanah, Al Maaden, Royal Palm, Noria, Assoufid, Montgomerie Tony Jacklin and PalmGolf Ourika) were added to the existing famous ones, as well as a 9-hole course (Atlas Golf Marrakech). Located on the outskirts of the city, these golf courses guarantee Marrakesh's reputation as the largest golf offering in the Kingdom.

The Samanah Golf Club, designed by Nicklaus Design, is a highly selective course, without any useless trap. Surrounded by the Atlas Mountains, this golf is offering five different courses. The Al Maaden Golf is surrounded by woods and alternates plains and hills. Developed and designed by Kyle Phillips, this versatile course suits all game levels.

The South-West of Marrakech offers a variety of original courses like the Atlas Golf Marrakech, a true city golf, designed by Alain Prat and The Assoufid Golf Club, designed by Niall Cameron. Not far away on the road to Amez Miz is the Montgomerie and Tony Jacklin Golf Clubs that enjoys great view as well as mountains as the Famous Koutoubia. Noria Golf Club Marrakech, an 18-hole course, which is part of a multi-activities holidays resort. managed by the Pierre & Vacances - Center Parcs Group. The Royal Palm Golf Club, also an 18-hole course, managed by Beachcomber Group. The latest addition to this beautiful collection is the PalmGolf Marrakech Ourika which is the closest golf to the Atlas Mountains.

To the West of the red city, the region golf offer gained, at the end of 2009, an 18-hole golf course south of the coastal city of Essaouira : the Mogador Golf Club. This first course at the Mogador Beach Resort is twinned with another 18-hole, both designed by Gary Player.

A mountain golf project with 18 holes will also be built in the Oukaïmeden valley, offering players an opportunity to play the highest golf course in North Africa.

Finally, the legendary 18-hole course in Ouarzazate, will reopen soon on the at the desert's gates. So eventually, about half a dozen new 18-hole golf courses should open by 2020 at the foot of the Atlas Mountains.

ROYAL GOLF MARRAKECH

The Royal Golf Marrakech was one of the favourite of late King Hassan II. It was also played by celebrities like Winston Churchill, Lloyd George, Eisenhower...

Designed in the 1920s by Arnaud Massy, and later modernised, it was built keeping in mind the pure joy of playing at the foot of the snow-covered Atlas Mountains. In this environment, you find cypresses, palm trees, eucalyptus, olive trees, orange trees, apricots trees... The delight of the game combined with the pleasure of the senses make this course an unforgettable experience.

NORIA GOLF CLUB

Situated a few kilometers from the city centre, Noria Golf club is one of the newest golf courses in Marrakech offering an original and innovative experience.

The layout, designed by Steve Forrest from Hills&Forrest Study, offers some unique golfing holes designed around a series of water features that stretch from the clubhouse to the northern extremity of site, splitting holes 9 and 18. The course features three distinct landscape themes with lavender fields, desert plantations and a distinctive water design with four hectares of lakes arranged in architectural fashion through the centre of the property. The layout is stimulating to play with a large range of tee positions to suit all levels of golfers.

THE TONY JACKLIN MARRAKECH

The 18-hole course signed by Tony Jacklin winds through olive trees and lakes, with the Atlas Mountains in the background.

Six tees to vary the challenges on every hole, wide fairways but ideally placed bunkers to spice up the game, everything is made for exciting games. An exceptional site for training, the only nine holes Par 3 of Morocco with 90 to 180m holes, where all irons can be used, with huge greens for almost unlimited pin positions. A perfect place to improve short and long iron shots. The terrace of the Club House facing the mountains will be the last stop of a successful golf day in the Tony Jacklin Marrakech.

GOLF DE MOGADOR

The two 18-hole golf courses of Mogador are quite a success! Dunes ideally replace bunkers and each natural element contributes in enhancing the beauty of the stroll and the intensity of the game.

The course is a smart combination of holes on the seashore like in Scottish courses with holes hidden in the sand like in Arizona.

Designed by Gary Player, these two 18-hole courses at Essaouira are true invitations to travel.

Golf under the Moroccan sun Agadir

Located on the gates of the Sahara desert, between the mountains and the Atlantic Ocean, with 300 days of sunshine a year, pleasant temperatures and a bay lined by 10 km of sublime beaches, Agadir has everything it takes to enhance its status as the second largest golf destination in Morocco, right behind Marrakesh.

This is the region where you can enjoy five splendid golfs with fairways lined with fragrant eucalyptus, brooms and mimosas, in Royal Golf Agadir, Golf des Dunes and Golf du Soleil, as well as the new Golf de l'Océan; a 27-hole designed by the American architect Belt Collins, which opened in 2010. In the north of Agadir, located in the new Taghazout Bay Resort, Taghazout Golf Club, the first 18-hole golf course opened its doors for golfers in 2015. A second course will come to complete the Tagahzout Bay project.

ROYAL GOLF AGADIR

In 1951, a Scotsman, enthusiastic golfer named Mister Wilson dug a single hole in which, at the time, was a wasteland. And from there, Colonel Major Kamili, no less enthusiastic but more constant, dug next eight holes that are now the Royal Golf Agadir.

Fragrant aromas of pine, eucalyptus and mimosa, rocked by a subtle ocean breeze, this golf course is open all year under a blue sky continuously.

GOLF DES DUNES

The Golf des Dunes offers three different courses: Eucalyptus, Oued and Tamaris, to triple the fun of playing.

They are the work of Cabell B. Robinson's imagination, who designed in 1991 this golf course suited for all players on a hilly site with lots of water. The beginning of the course is quite easy going but as of Par 5, you experience an impressive climbing through the trees to finish with a gentle slope going down to the clubhouse, after a tricky hole 9 on the Tamaris course.

GOLF DU SOLEIL

In 1999, Muela and Courbin designed the Golf du Soleil in Agadir, including lakes and waterfalls, thus combining beauty with difficulty.

The atmosphere is a unique mix between the prestige of golf and the stunning nature: tamarind trees, mimosas, eucalyptus and bougainvillea, creating light and shadow plays on the wide fairways and welcoming passionate players throughout the year.
